SERMON AT OPPORTUNE TIME

At the First Baptist Church Sunday evening July 28, Rev. Thos. W. Gales will preach a sermon on the following subject: "Would Jesus Go to the Circus?" Mr. Gales has strong convictions on this subject and without doubt will give the people something well worth reflecting over. As he says, "A clear cut presentation of the duty of the Christian people of Rhinelander."

MEAT MARKET SOLD

The downtown meat market of L. Emerling formerly the C. W. Chatterton market, has been sold to H. Holzschuh. Mr. Holzschuh moved to Rhinelander from Niagara, Wisconsin three months ago and expects to make this city his future home. He has been fortunate in securing an old stand in a central location and intends to handle first class goods and give first class service. He retains Mr. Wm. Cheslok who has been with Mr. Emerling since he purchased the market of C. W. Chatterton. Mr. Emerling retains his business on North Brown Street and gives all his attention to it.

GOES TO COAST.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Lombard and children who have been spending the summer in this city at the home of Mrs. Lombard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Townsend, returned to their home at St. Charles, Minn., Friday where they will leave their children at the home of Mr. Lombard's brother, George Lombard. From there they will make a three months trip to the Coast. They go over the Northern Pacific and return by way of Texas. Their first stop is at Yellowstone National Park; from thence they go to Portland, Seattle, Vancouver and Los Angeles. On their return from the west they may make Rhinelander their future home. Mr. Lombard has already purchased a large tract of land here and thinks some of going into the timber land business.

FISHING EXPERIENCES.

LAKE GEORGE.

Lake George was the scene of a remarkable adventure with a large muscalonge on Saturday last in which the fish was landed by a lady after a hard to hand struggle. Mrs. Charles Peterson, her daughter Ruth, Mrs. W. W. Carr and her two children were out in a boat near the island at the south end of the lake when Mrs. Peterson felt the line tighten and realized that she "had a bite," they dragged the fish two miles to the north end of the lake where the water is shallow, when Mrs. Carr sprang into the water and caught the fish by the gills just as it had broken loose from the line. A struggle followed but excitement lending Mrs. Carr strength, she threw it far up on the beach. The fish measured 48 inches and weighed 30 lbs.

MINOCQUA LAKE.

A party of people stopping at the Rapids House went to Minocqua Sunday to fish. While the people were out on the lake in a boat, Mr. Chester Bundy of Milwaukee hooked a muscalonge. Fearing he might lose the fish if he attempted to draw him into the boat, Mr. Bundy immediately sprang into the water and swam to shore drawing the twenty-five pound fish after him which he succeeded in landing. This is a novel way of catching fish. Besides it gives the clothes presser business.

TOWN LINE LAKE.

A couple of gentlemen from Racine, who were registered at the Korzilius home had a peculiar experience the other day while on Town Line lake. They started out for a boat ride without any fishing tackle, suddenly they were startled to see a large fish swimming along side their boat; one of the gentlemen made a grab for the fish but was unable to hold it; they rowed several rods and the fish again appeared, this time an oar was brought into motion and with the assistance of a pole the fish was landed. It was an 8-pound pike and was immediately expressed to Racine.—Forest Advance.

A Memorable Day.

One of the days we remember with pleasure, as well as with profit to our health, is the one on which we became acquainted with Dr. King's New Life Pills, the painless purifiers that cure headache and biliousness and keep the bowels right. 25c. at J. J. Reardon's Drug Store.

A CHILDREN'S CIRCUS.

It may be a pleasing fiction that the modern circus is primarily intended for the edification and delight of the children; but the fact remains that no memory lingers longer in the minds of men and women than that which is associated with the entrancement of the sawdust arena—the airy, fairy riders; the whirling acrobats; the gravity-defying aerialists; the fooleries of the clowns; the roar and dash of the hippodrome races, and the wonders of the animal world as displayed in the traveling menagerie.

In these days of big amusement enterprises the circus has become an entertainment for "grown-ups" as well as children, but no astute circus manager, who expected to win continued success would neglect the younger generation in preparing his program of arctic attractions. The management of the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, which exhibits in Rhinelander Wednesday, July 31, recognizes this fact by announcing a complete children's circus as an integral part of this season's program. A recent visitor to the big show thus gives his impressions of this feature of the entertainment:

"Among the thousand-and-one wonderful sights are many that have been secured for the avowed purpose of delighting the children. Little elephants, tiny ponies, dogs, sea-lions, monkeys, and other animals execute tricks similar to those read about in story books, and the little ones fairly revel in what, to their youthful fancies, is a veritable fairyland of wonders. Such attractions as the zoological display afford them an excellent idea of the beasts, birds and reptiles existing in the world, and prove of distinct educational value. 'Speck,' the smallest horse in the world, a troupe of tiny Lilliputians, a giant, as big as ever fancy painted the Goliath of the Bible or the Magog of the fairy tales, a Finnish giantess, and the ridiculous antics of the clowns, are all features that irresistibly appeal to childhood and make impressions that will never be eradicated."

There are, it is said, many other interesting features of the Barnum & Bailey show, which, while not especially designed for the children, prove vastly entertaining to the younger element in the audience. In the menagerie pavilion, in addition to the notable display of wild animals, with its rare bi-horned rhinoceros and its herd of giraffes, there is a preliminary concert of singing and dancing by the Lilliputians and a musical entertainment by a company of clever artists, who play the most alluring melodies on novel and unique instruments. In the big hippodrome pavilion 300 performers from all parts of the world keep the three rings, two stages, aerial spaces and racing busy with a varied assortment of new and daring performances; there are several novelties of a thrilling character, and, finally, a series of exciting races, one of which—a running contest between ponies with jabbering monkeys as riders—is designed to appeal to the youngsters in the crowd, and undoubtedly does.

MARRIED.

The marriage of John Warnstrom to Lydia Dahlberg took place at the home of W. W. Carr Saturday. Mr. Carr performed the ceremony. Both of the contracting parties are of this city.

Mrs. Belle Hebert of the Oneida House was married on Tuesday afternoon to Mr. Jake Draeger of Antigo, who a few months ago accepted a position as engineer for Brown Bros. Lbr. Co. The wedding had been planned for Monday morning at Antigo but it was found the last minute that a residence of five days was required by law. So they returned to this city and the wedding took place at the Oneida House. Miss Lizzie Bracklin and Mr. H. F. Kohl of Antigo were witnesses.

Bert Lord of this city and Miss Ellen E. Brown of Munising, Michigan were united in marriage Wednesday at the home of F. M. Mason who performed the ceremony. The young couple will make Rhinelander their future home.

NEW LAW—HITS BOY SMOKERS.

A recent law passed by the legislature prohibits boys under sixteen years of age from smoking in any public place under penalty of a fine or imprisonment. Any person in charge of a public place, allowing boys to smoke tobacco in any form is liable to the same fine.

NEW REGULATION REGARDING STAMPED ENVELOPES.

By order of the Postoffice Department, stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers are now shipped by freight in car load lots to distributing points. Under the new system postmasters are instructed to allow from one to two weeks longer than heretofore for filling orders for stamped paper. Patrons of the postoffice will kindly take notice of this, and place their orders for stamped envelopes sufficiently early to insure delivery before their supplies are exhausted. S. H. ALLEN, Postmaster.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT SUMMER SESSION.

Madison, Wis., July 19.—Over 100 more students are registered in the summer session of the University of Wisconsin this year than last year, the total registration now being 607, whereas there were 550 enrolled last summer, showing an increase of 57. A part of this increase is due to the opening of the college of law to summer students for the first time this year. Although the announcement of the summer courses at the law school was not made until late in the spring, there were 35 young men who entered for the work, and the same opportunity will be offered to summer students next year. In the college of engineering there are 70 men registered, either for special, advanced, or research work, and 21 more are supplementing their regular work in the department with four weeks of shop work. The summer school for artisans as a whole has 97 students enrolled. The main body of the students, 555, are taking work in the various departments of the college of letters and science. This number including the 20 young men and women who are studying the elements of agriculture in Prof. W. A. Henry's new course. This work is proving of great value to those teachers who will be required to give instruction in elementary agriculture in the primary and secondary schools in the fall. It is the forerunner of the regular summer work to be inaugurated in the college of agriculture next year. Among the students present are Miss Mary McRae and Miss Lola Billing from Rhinelander.

STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The 1907 summer meeting of this Society will be held at Shiocton, Aug. 28th. Following the plan of previous years this will be a "flower" meeting. The leading topic will be bulbs and tuberous-rooted plants. The spring-flowering bulbs such as the tulip, hyacinth, crocus, etc., will be presented including one on native bulbs and tubers. Shiocton is a village of about 600 population on the Green Bay and Western R. R., eighteen miles north of Appleton and eight miles east of New London.

FEATURES OF SPECIAL INTEREST AT SHIOCTON.

1. The bulb farm of M. Crawford the well known strawberry and gladiolus specialist. Mr. Crawford has six acres of gladiolus at Shiocton which should be in bloom on the date of our meeting. 2. An opportunity to see the work being done by the Shiocton Garden Land Co. in transforming 4000 acres of swamp into garden land. This land has risen in value from $10.00 to $200.00 per acre. Either of these features should insure a large attendance at the summer meeting; in addition a good program will be provided and liberal premiums offered for both flowers and fruit. Plan to go to Shiocton August 28th. R. J. COE, Pres., F. CHANFIELD, Sec., Ft. Atkinson, Wis. Madison, Wis.

FRASER STOCK COMPANY.

Fraser Stock Co. are drawing large crowds at the Grand Opera House this week. The company is a very good one, above the average, headed by one of the best repertoire actresses that has ever played in this house, Miss Iva Richards. The bills for the remainder of the week will be Thursday, Folks Down East; Friday, A Bachelor's Honey-moon; Saturday Matinee and A Cowboy's Girl Saturday night. Mr. Fraser will give away a souvenir Saturday night $5.00 in gold. Keep your souvenir tickets you might be the lucky one. Saturday matinee there will be given after the play a Pink Tea. Don't fail to attend this, as it will be something never seen before in Rhinelander. Prices for the matinee will be 10 cents to children and 15 cents to adults to any seat in the house.

COMPANY L BUSY AGAIN.

Next Monday night, the 29th, the Troubadours Orchestra will appear at the Armory to give a concert and play for the dance to follow. Posters and bills will be out advertising the event, telling the price of admission and at what time the concert and dance will begin. Everybody knows the standing of the Troubadours Orchestra, as they have visited our city several times. It is the desire of Company L to make this occasion a most pleasant one for all its friends; the invitation is general. Tickets $1.00 for concert and dance.

BRYAN'S POLICY.

William Jennings Bryan appears to be pained at the current misconception that he is going to favor government ownership of railroads in the coming presidential campaign. So he issues a statement to set the people right. "Government ownership," Mr. Bryan says, "is not an immediate issue." Effective regulation is what the people are now hoping for. His own opinion is that ultimately public ownership will be the only solution, but for the present he thinks regulation should be given a trial, and if he were to press the ownership program he fears he would only be giving the railroads a chance to dodge the regulation issue. There is an enormous difference of atmosphere between this statement and the famous Madison Square Garden speech of last fall, but nevertheless there is slight difference in the actual language Mr. Bryan uses. At that time he said: "I have reached the conclusion that there will be no permanent relief on the railroad question until the railroads are the property of the government and operated by the government in the interests of the people. And I believe that there is a growing belief in all parties that this solution, be it far or near, is the ultimate solution."

When the New York pronouncement was made the country became suddenly superheated with excitement, and the tremendous enthusiasm with which Mr. Bryan had been greeted after his long absence cooled so suddenly in spots that it came near cracking. The one thing that stands out prominently to-day is that Mr. Bryan is now convinced that the "growing belief" isn't growing as rapidly as he hoped it might a year ago. His facility in the use of language has saved him from any charge of inconsistency, but his experiment with public opinion has been just as effective as if he had been inconsistent. The incident adds one more bit of evidence to the famous case now pending known as Bryan versus Roosevelt, or "Who Stole Whose Political Programme?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

BASE BALL.

NORTH CRANDON 3, O. A. C. OF RHINELANDER 24.
The Rhinelander O. A. C. base ball team of this city went to North Crandon Sunday morning and defeated the North Crandon team in the afternoon by a score of 24 to 3. The batteries were Kell and Brown of North Crandon and Will Bell and John Pecor of this city. The O. A. C. has played six games this season; two at Pembine, one at Three Lakes and two at North Side. They have won in four games. The team is to play at Arbor Vitae next Sunday.

VENEER 10, KEARNS' COLTS 14.
In a base ball game at the Fair Grounds last Sunday between the Veneer team and Kearns' Colts, the Veneer team was defeated by a score of fourteen to ten. The attendance was small, about two hundred, on account of the threatening weather. The batteries were for the Veneer: Carroll and Ferrington, for the Colts, Fredericks and Jennings. Umpire, Howard Dawson.

COMPANY L RETURNS HOME.

The Second Regiment of National guards of which Company L is a member broke camp at Camp Douglas last Friday. Some of the members of Company L came directly home; others came later and still others are visiting in various parts of the state and will return later. We understand Company L made a good showing at the camp.

We pass over the work of the National Guards too lightly. When we realize that this vast country has but sixty-five thousand regular soldiers and in time of war would have to depend upon the National Guard as the next resort we should consider the work of the Guards as important, and the vigorous drills at the camps are important factors in equipping the boys for active service.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. Ed. Laduke Jr., of the North Side died suddenly at her home Tuesday after a short illness. She leaves a husband and two young children to mourn her loss. She was a member of the R. N. of A. Lodge of this city. Her remains were taken to Stevens Point yesterday for interment. The R. N. of A. Lodge, as a body accompanied the remains to the Northwestern station. Mrs. Laduke's mother of Stevens Point, Will Laduke, Mrs. Sears, Mrs. Eleece and Mr. and Mrs. Albright accompanied the remains to Stevens Point where the last rights will be performed.

Passing Beliefs.
Read the famous chapter in Victor Hugo's "Shakespeare" about the precise knowledge of the world and the universe as imparted by the philosophers and learned men of Greece, and you will wonder how the science of this century will be regarded by the men of 2000 A. D.

You smile at odd medical prescriptions. Here is one of the seventeenth century: "Earthworms all and cleansed and cut in pieces and chopped, a good mass of potage made thereof with oatmeal and water and eaten by them that have the black jaundice, doth perfectly cure them thereof, though it is never so long rooted. This is very true and hath been oftentimes proved." Yet we read in a contemporary that the thyroid gland of a sheep is an excellent thing to stimulate men and women to "curiosity and a desire to study."

Called.
The comedian boarder who owed five weeks' back pay was in one of those facetious moods.

"Madam," he chuckled, spearing a green strawberry and holding it above his saucer, "I understand that you entered the boarding-house business merely to save enough money to become an actress. Am I right?"

The landlady stared at him coldly.

"Yes, Mr. Highball," she responded in rasping tones, "I am boarding here at present so that I may be able to beat the boards later on."

And then the comedian boarder left the table without even finishing his dessert.

Woman's Place in the World.
The "half angel, half fiend" period is over in the woman's world. She is fighting her way into every sphere of human activity. Her labor is coming into competition with that of men in nearly every department of industry. In the learned professions she is forcing herself to the front by sheer determination and force of intellect in a way that will not be denied. Sooner or later men will be compelled to treat with her and recognize her as a coworker, and they could not begin better than by admitting her right to be a coveter.—James Keir Hardie.

Guy—Huh! I thought perhaps it had Samson's hair in it.

STORY OF A SEA SERPENT.
It Knocked an Oarsman Out of His Boat.

Mr. McNaughton, as his name signifies, is a Scotsman, and is consequently scarcely likely to exaggerate. He has been visiting Clevedon, in Somerset, and relates the following story of a strange adventure, says Reynolds's Newspaper. The incident was, he says, witnessed by many spectators.

Mr. McNaughton was quietly rowing in a little skiff about a mile off Clevedon pier, when a large snake object, which he described as "like a huge mummy, with large sunken eyes," suddenly appeared at the rear of the boat, about 20 yards away.

It approached by a series of leaps and dives, causing the sea to be greatly disturbed. Mr. McNaughton says that by plunging the oars into the surf he endeavored to keep his antagonist at bay.

But his efforts were only momentarily successful. In a few seconds it had reached within a few yards of the boat.

"I can only dimly recollect what happened," he continued. "The fishy monster seemed to leap straight out of the water—straight as an arrow at me. I hardly know what I did. I think I must have ducked and crashed the oar into the creature. At any rate I was flung violently into the water."

"When I regained the surface I managed to clamber into the boat. My terrible antagonist was nowhere in sight. In a dazed condition, scarcely knowing that I did, I succeeded in reaching Portlehead."

OAN FORETELL THE WEATHER.
Scientist Thinks Animals and Birds Have That Power.

Are the tree toads, swallows, and fishes trustworthy barometers? Prof. Robert Leutwyler, of the University of Prague, assures the world that many species of animals probably sense electric waves emanating from distant storms, the local electric tension, the toning of the atmosphere, the permeability of higher strata to light in small waves, and the atmospheric pressure, as well as moisture and temperature, and by certain combinations of such perceptions are rendered led to special actions that stand in a causal relation to the coming weather. The question whether the high or low flight respectively of the insects and the behavior of the fishes, tree frogs, and swallows standing in connection therewith can be used as weather indications seems to him to be not finally answered. So far as the scientific investigations permit a conclusion no connection exists indeed, but since an instinctive accommodation of the conduct of the insects to the coming weather is possible and undoubtedly would be extremely advantageous to them, he deems it nevertheless not impossible that such a one exists in fact.

Beware of the Dog!
A wealthy gentleman recently had a party of his men friends at his home and entertained them by having a gifted lecturer deliver a stereopticon talk on the tropics, which he had just visited. The slides were very beautiful, and so engrossed did the entire audience become in the lecture that every one failed to notice the entrance of a pet dog belonging to the host.

Meantime the dog—a most well-behaved animal—sat quietly down in a remote corner and watched the pictures with the greatest interest. He followed the advent and disappearance of each slide in wonder, craning his neck to the utmost as each picture was slipped out and replaced by another. At last the lecturer presented a tropical glade with several fine ducks skimming over it and was enlarging on the shooting there, when suddenly the dog made one mad rush for the ducks and disappeared through the sheet!

The lecture came to an abrupt close.

Pussy Willows.
A little girl recently saw some pussy willows for the first time. The teacher who showed them to her was so familiar with them herself that she assumed the child must know how they grow and so merely said:

"See what soft little gray fur coats they have on!"

"Yes," returned the girl, stroking them lovingly.

"And see how pink some of them are," went on the teacher enthusiastically, much disappointed that the child should say so little.

"Yes," murmured the girl again.

Feeling the little willow was not much interested the teacher turned to go away, when, to her surprise, her listener caught her by the dress, whispering eagerly:

"If I'll bring you a straight, brown twig to-morrow will you make some more of those little fur things and stick 'em on mine?"

Lo Still in the Ring.
The several groups of Dakotas or Sioux, declared the Indian Commissioner Leupp in the Youth's Companion, number in round terms 30,000, and the Chippewas 20,000. They are settled in what used to be known as the Northwest—that is, the region tributary to the Great Lakes and the upper Mississippi. In the southwest the Navajos outnumber all other groups of a single name. More than 20,000 live on a reservation nearly twice as large as the state of Massachusetts, or about one-third the size of New York.

Flew Too High at First.

The mistakes inexperienced music teachers make in mapping out courses of study for their pupils are almost incredible. A young girl came to me for lessons recently, says Robert D. Brain, in the Etude, and I found that the course she was studying was as follows: For exercises she had the entire list of Beethoven sonatas in two volumes, having already "been through" the first volume; for a solo she had Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsodie No. 2. She could not play any of the sonatas, and had to be put back to easy steps and a simple scale by Durand.

Copper Mining Good Trade.
Contrary to general belief, copper mining is healthy work, and the average of life here reaches 80 years, for the composition of the ore has an extremely strengthening effect on the blood and nerves. Few copper miners die before they reach the age of 83 or 84. But on the other hand the copper smelter is lucky if he sees 50.

Whiskey is bad to drink, but its distilling is health giving, and a fatal foe to disease germs of nearly every kind. Distillery workers show the excellent average of 81 years of life and seldom suffer from illness unless given to intemperance.

Oddly enough, barring accidents, there would be no trade to beat the steepjacks for keeping life going. The task of working at great heights from the ground keeps the nervous system in perfect order, and that is two-thirds of the battle. Steepjacks who are not killed by accident show the magnificent average of 89 years.

GUARDING HIS OWN PROPERTY.
Jackson's Method of Dealing with Avaricious Merchant.

"Here," said the Virginia veteran, "is another Jackson yarn."

"Jackson used bales of cotton in the ramparts that he threw up in defense of New Orleans and it was usually a matter of indifference to him whose cotton he employed. Some of it happened to belong to a rich merchant."

"The merchant followed his bales with doglike devotion. He could not bear to tear himself away from them. He was standing over them when Jackson happened to draw near and running up to the chief, he said: 'Monseigneur, it is damage for your men to take my cotton. All property is sacred and must be protected.'

"'Just,' said Jackson, 'are you sure this is your cotton?'

"'Oh, sure! Most sure,' said the merchant. 'I know the marks, all of them. Et puis, alors, this cotton, sir, must be defended.'

"Jackson turned to a private and told him to fetch a musket at once. The musket being brought, the general laid it in the merchant's arms and said, with a grim smile: 'My friend, you are the most proper person I know of to defend your own property. Stay here, then, and do so. Stir at your peril.'—Detroit Free Press.

How to Protect Seeds.
All seeds that rats, mice or birds eat can be effectually protected by coating them with red lead.

Place the seed in a vessel considerably larger than is needed to contain it, and add to it a few drops of paraffin or water, just enough (not more) to moisten every seed, and stir it well; then add a small quantity of red lead and stir again until each seed is thoroughly coated and separate. Vermin will sometimes attack seeds thus treated, but disgusted with the result soon pass on to other fare.—The Gardener.

THRONE OF KOREA TO CROWN PRINCE

EMPEROR YIELDS TO INEVITABLE AND SIGNS RESCRIPT OF ABDICATION.

FIGHTS TO THE LAST TO RETAIN CONTROL

Ministers and Elder Statesmen Refuse to Support Him—Active Opposition Against Japanese Feared—Sympathy at Tokyo.

Seoul, Korea, July 20.—Korea has a new emperor today. The former ruler abdicated in favor of the crown prince at one a. m. Friday, after scenes of dramatic intensity. Astounded and perturbed, the former monarch struggled to the last to retain his throne, but first his ministers, and then the council of elder statesmen refused to support him, and there was nothing left for him to do except sign the rescript in favor of the heir.

In the imperial rescript of abdication
the emperor briefly expresses his regret that during the 41 years of his reign national calamities have come in rapid succession, and says the people's distress has become so aggravated that he deemed it time to transfer the crown to the heir apparent in conformity with ancient usage.

It is reported that a dramatic scene was enacted at the palace when the ministers, headed by Premier Yi Wang Young, appeared before his majesty and made the emperor's final representation, urging the emperor's
abdication.

The emperor, in the most humble but firm manner, refused to yield, but the council, in the end, gave way to the pressure of the emperor's policies, especially in diplomatic affairs, whereby he was endangering the safety of the nation. The premier enumerated his majesty's duplicities, which culminated in the dispatch of a deputation to The Hague conference.

Elder Statesmen Forsake Him.
Unable to combat the logic of the premier's representations, the emperor sought refuge in the council of elder statesmen, expecting their sympathy. The council immediately convened. Four elders recommended and appeared before his majesty at one o'clock Friday morning. His disappointment was great when they agreed with the minister's advice.
Thereupon he consented to the draft of an imperial rescript announcing his abdication, which was placed before him for signature.

The emperor's condition was pitiable. Greatly perturbed, he signed the document, and the seal was affixed amid impressive silence. A suppressed sigh from the abdicating ruler was the only sound which broke the deathlike stillness.

Populace May Make Trouble.
Enraged crowds are assembling at various points in the city, and inflammatory documents against the Japanese are distributed, giving rise to a forlorn hope that active opposition is about to begin. Serious trouble, it was believed, would take place between the police and the rioters.

Marquis Ito is not expected to resort to extreme measures of repression until all mild means of pacification have been exhausted. Extraordinary police precautions are being taken throughout the city.

Sympathy for Emperor.
Tokyo, July 20.—Although much sympathy is expressed here with the Korean emperor, who has retired, the public is breathing more easily now that the arch intruder has been disarmed. It is believed that hereafter the relations between Japan and Korea will be smooth. Unqualified admiration is expressed for the Korean cabinet because it effected the solution without the shedding of blood, and in a manner showing more than ordinary courage.

It is felt that the commotion among the populace at Seoul is not actuated by a spirit of true loyalty to the retired emperor, but by fear of the adoption of drastic measures by the Japanese government toward Korea as a nation, and until the pacific intention of Japan is fully understood agitation is anticipated.

The date for the coronation of the new emperor has not been fixed. Reports from Seoul are silent as to the action Marquis Ito is to take after the rescript transferring the throne has been issued, but no doubt he will do his utmost to placate the people.

Billick Condemned to Hang.
Chicago, July 20.—Herman Billick, self-admitted faker and mixer of mysterious potions, was found guilty of murdering Mary Vrzal, 29 years old,
by arsenical poisoning, and his punishment fixed at death by a jury in Judge Barnes' court Thursday night.

Four other members of the Vrzal family met death by poisoning. They were Martin, the father; Thillie, 18 years old; Rosie, 14 years old, and Edna, 12 years old.

One Dead in Burning Hotel.
Yreka, Cal., July 20.—The depot and Hotel at Yreka were burned to the ground at an early hour this morning as the result of the explosion of a lamp. Miss Laura Pacey, a school teacher, who had just arrived there from New York, was burned to death.
The water supply was defective and no effort could be made to control the flames.

Left Over Cereals.
Rice, oatmeal or other cereals left over from breakfast make delicious pancakes. Take equal parts of the leftover and flour, add a little sugar and salt, one or two eggs, according to the quantity, and enough milk to make a heavy batter. Bake in half fat and butter a nice brown. Bake into small cakes. These little pancakes are nice for dessert, eaten with jelly.

The gifts of a bad man bring no good with them.—Euripides.

WHERE ARE THE DOOMS OF YESTERDAY?

HOUSES UPROOTED BY TERRIFIC RAIN

AIDED BY TORNADO, HEAVY DAMAGE IS CAUSED AT ST.
JOSEPH, MO.

HOME CARRIED AWAY OVER FAMILY'S HEAD

Occupants Take Refuge in Cellar
Where They Are Buried in Debris
—Kansas City Bottoms Flooded
by Heavy Downpour.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 20.—A tornado and tremendous rain did heavy damage in St. Joseph and vicinity Thursday night. Houses were wrecked, street railway tracks torn out and cellars flooded. The family of Daniel Riordan, one mile east of the city, had a remarkable escape from death. The residence, two stories in height, was torn from the foundation and demolished. Riordan, his wife and three children had taken refuge in the basement. They were buried under debris, but the wind lifted the house bodily from the foundation and none of the heavy timbers fell on them.

Almost Swept into the Missouri.
Scores of houses were washed from their foundations in the city by the rain, which resulted in a cloudburst.
St. Joseph, nestled in hills and the force of the tornado was broken. Sewers could not carry off the water and racing torrents flowed through the outlying parts of the city.

Adam Zihowski attempted to wade one of these torrents. He was swept from his feet and carried toward the Missouri river two blocks distant. He caught a telephone pole and clung there 20 minutes until rescued by a party of men with ropes.

Flood Drives Out Families.
In Brookside, a low-lying suburb, a score of families were driven from their homes by water, which reached the windows on the first floor. A dozen residences were struck by lightning, but no fatalities are reported.
The home of Fred Shoemaker, where a funeral party was caught by the storm, was struck by lightning twice and several persons stunned.

Flood Hits Kansas City.
Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—Further heavy rains north of here last night caused the Missouri river at Kansas City to rise a little higher and as a result the cellars in two dozen wholesale houses in the west bottoms were partially flooded Friday morning.
Stocks had been removed to places of safety and the damage in this direction was slight.

Truck gardens at Quindaro, on the outskirts of Kansas City, along the Missouri river, have been flooded, causing damage estimated at $20,000,
and several truck farmers with their families had to move to higher ground.

River Continues to Rise.
The stage of the Missouri Friday morning was 23 feet and, with the additional volume of water above here, Weather Observer Connor said that the river probably would rise gradually until Saturday night. If there are no further rains in the west and northwest for several days the Missouri will still be low enough to take care of flood waters without danger of aerial overflow, Mr. Connor says. The Kaw is rising slowly also.

Midshipman Cruise Is Dead.
Boston, July 20.—Midshipman James
F. Cruise of the battleship Georgia died Friday at the naval hospital in Chelsea. He is the tenth man to die, as a result of the powder explosion in the after turret of the Georgia during target practice in Cape Cod bay last Monday.

Rough on the Count.
"But, Helen," said the designing parent, "I should think you would like the count because he is so romantic.
Why, he said you were as sweet as a garden full of flowers."

"Indeed," laughed the beautiful helpless. "Well, the count reminds me of a garden before the flowers come up."

"Gracious, my dear! In what way?"

"Why, he is soft and seedy and needs a good raking over."

Perseverance Wins.
Let us hold on though the land be miles away; let us hold on till the morning breaks. That speck on the distant horizon may be the vessel for which we must shape our course.
Forward not backward, must we steer—forward and forward, till the speck becomes a friendly ship. Have patience and perseverance; believe that there is still a future before us, and we shall at last reach the haven
where we would be.—Dean Stanley.

Treat Pigs Right.
"Nothing but a pig," therefore anything is good enough for him. Is this the way your folks look at it? If so no wonder that you have never "done well" with pigs. We must never speak or think slightly of anything if we expect to succeed. Same with pigs as with anything else.

As an arrangement for saving time and trouble Uncle Sam may decide merely to give China an order on the Standard Oil company for that $27,

William Raether has been placed temporarily in charge of the station, pending the arrival of Charles Young, of Plum Island, who is said to be slated to succeed De Dornier. It is said that the retirement of the veteran keeper was due to a disagreement between him and the inspector for the district. De Dornier is a direct descendant of Napoleon, a brother-in-law of E. G. State Capital Notes

Weekly Budget Gathered by Our Special Correspondent at Madison.

Madison.—Gov. Davidson signed the Hagemeister stock and bonds bill and it was officially published, thus putting it into immediate effect. The governor signed a score of bills. Among them were the bills increasing the salaries of assessors in the city of Milwaukee from $750 to $1,200 a year, providing for a charter convention for the city of Milwaukee on the second Monday of next January or any other date that the common council may fix, empowering the common council to regulate and license meat markets in Milwaukee, and giving the two judges of the court of Milwaukee county equal authority in the appointment of subordinates. The Turner two-cent passenger fare bill did not reach the governor. The committee on engraving could not get it ready to be reported in the assembly and hence it had to go over.

Longest Session State Has Known.

Final adjournment of the longest session of the legislature ever held in Wisconsin was reached at 10:15 o'clock on the night of July 16, all business having concluded and the last measure reported by Gov. Davidson as being disposed of. The session convened on January 9 and has continued for 189 days, exceeding by 27 days the session of two years ago, which up to that time was the longest session ever held in the state. A total of 653 acts were passed. Gov. Davidson attaching his veto to 26 measures. The resignation of Senator John C. Spooner and the election of his successor contributed several weeks to the length of the session.

Just before final adjournment the governor sent to the assembly a message vetoing bill No. 922A relating to inheritance taxes. The governor says that the bill is defective in that it amends a section of the statute which does not contain the section numbers as adopted by the bill. The bill is vetoed, however, on the ground that it would entail large expense in enforcing it, would deprive the state of its fair share of taxes collected under the act, and provides an excessive fine for violation of the law. The present law allows the county in which the inheritance taxes are collected to retain five per cent. of them, and the bill increases this to 20 per cent. "The large percentage of the taxes authorized by this bill to be retained by the counties will," the governor says, "seriously reduce the amount to be received by the state from inheritance taxes and lessen its revenues to an extent to which I am unwilling to give my approval at this time. Under the provisions of this bill, the increased percentage authorized to be deducted by the counties would also apply to the payment of taxes which are now in the process of collection and which amount to a large sum. Several estates are in litigation at the present time involving inheritance taxes amounting to many thousands of dollars. This litigation has already cost the state about $10,000. If it is successful, the counties under this bill would receive one-fifth of the sum collected. I feel that this would be unjust to the state."

Three Vetoes Sent In.

Gov. Davidson sent three more vetoes to the legislature. The bills which failed to meet the executive's approval were: No. 295B, introduced by the senate committee on judiciary, providing for the retirement of a justice of the Wisconsin supreme court after reaching the age of 70 years and having served continuously for 20 years; No. 922A, introduced by Assemblyman Elver, requiring ordinances passed by common councils to be referred to the people for approval on petition of ten per cent. of the electors of the municipality concerned; and No. 982A, introduced by the assembly committee on fish and game, requiring nonresident trout fishermen to take out a five dollar license to fish in nine counties in the northwestern part of the state. The supreme court pension bill was introduced for the benefit of Chief Justice Cussody. If he desired to avail himself of it. Members who were afraid the chief justice might take immediate advantage of it and Gov. Davidson would appoint some one in his place who would not be acceptable to them, had the bill amended providing that it should not go into effect until the day before the expiration of Chief Cussody's term. Gov. Davidson vetoed the bill principally on the ground that he was opposed to the principal involved in it.

Has Executive Disapproval.

A bill meeting with the executive's disapproval was No. 415S, introduced by Senator Hazelwood, providing that the superintendent of schools in districts of between 5,000 and 9,000 inhabitants shall receive a salary of not less than $300, and in districts of more than 9,000 inhabitants not less than $400, and $100 for stationery, postage and printing in districts of less than 5,000 inhabitants and $200 in districts of 5,000 inhabitants, together with actual traveling expenses. The governor vetoed the bill because he believes it is an unnecessary encroachment on local government and because it attempts to increase the compensation of an officer during his term of office.

With Point in Wisconsin Fight.

The life insurance companies scored an important point when they succeeded in inducing the advocates of the so-called "reform" insurance bills to call one of the measures from the enrolling committee and amend it so as to clarify some of its provisions. This was the bill limiting the expense loading to one-third of the net single premium on an ordinary life policy insuring the same sum and sum issued at the same age. The companies made their final plea before the governor against enactment of the bills into law. A dozen insurance companies were represented.

Rate Chairman Out.

John Barnes resigned as chairman of the Wisconsin railroad rate commission. Action was provoked by the legislature's passing a two-cent fare bill after the commission had ordered a 2½-cent rate.

Lower Rate of Taxation.

The total increase in the preliminary valuation of railroad property in the state this year over last is a little more than $17,000,000. The average rate of taxation is less this year than last, being $19.95 per $1,000 of valuation as against $11.38 last year. Tax Commissioner George A. Kingsley, of the Wisconsin Central, asked for a reduction in the assessment of the property of his company. The commission will announce the final assessment of the railroad property for this year within the next month.

May Fight Two-Cent Fares.

It cannot be ascertained what the attitude of the railroads will be in reference to the new two-cent fare law. Those most active along political lines to secure the passage of the bill express the view that the railway companies will not contest the measure and will conform to its requirements. Others state that the roads will begin suits in the courts to test the validity of the act. The members of the railway rate commission refuse to discuss the matter.

Important Work of Legislature.

During the 1907 session of the Wisconsin legislature some of the bills which were enacted into law are of more far-reaching importance than any measures which have been considered for years heretofore. One of the most important is the "public utility" measure which gives the railroad rate commission authority to regulate and control every public corporation in the state. It is said to be the most comprehensive and drastic law of its kind ever enacted and its enforcement will be watched with keen interest. Among other bills passed of great importance were the two-cent railway fare bill and the life insurance measures. The rate bill was vigorously fought by the railway commission, notwithstanding which it becomes effective August 15. The life insurance measures were fought by the "home company"—the Northwestern Mutual—as well as by the large eastern companies. After some concessions were made on both sides the two more important measures were passed. One regulates the mode of electing directors of life insurance companies, practically prohibiting proxy voting, and the other putting a limitation upon the expense charges in policies. Other laws enacted provide that steam and electric railroads must secure a certificate of necessity and public convenience from the railroad rate commission before paralleling existing lines; creates a state board of immigration; forbidding the use of tobacco in any form by boys under 18 years of age in public places unless accompanied by parent or guardian; a "child labor" law providing shorter hours for children employed in many occupations and an educational test for children seeking permits to work; and a law putting the national guard on the same basis as the regular and volunteer armies.

Western Men in New York.

Ever since the early days, when D. O. Mills, J. B. Haggis and James R. Keene "emigrated" from California to New York, the metropolis has been drawing largely on the west and south for its supply of "men who do things." Theodore P. Shonts, both a southerner and a westerner, who has undertaken to solve New York's great transit problem, is the latest importation in response to the call of the east. The promptness with which Theo. P. Ryan, of Virginia, turned the Equitable Life Assurance Society over to its policyholders, who now elect a majority of its board of directors, and directed himself of the control of the stock which he bought from Jas. H. Hyde, and the success of the new management of the Society under the direction of President Paul Morton, have created a demand for the strong men of the south and west that is greater than ever before. Under the Morton management the Equitable has made a better showing than any other insurance company in the way of improved methods, economies and increased returns to policyholders.

MAN AND HIS WAYS.

Fertile Brain Has Evolved a New Style of Cradle.

A new cradle has been invented—and by a descendant of the old. Under the name of a descendant for no up-to-date woman would really ever think of inventing anything so pernicious to her infant's welfare. Has she not become enlightened to the dreadful life of that time-honored institution of our ancestors? Dare she imperil the intellect that is to sway the twentieth century by untimely "juggling" in its embryo stage? Poor modern babe! When colle's gripes assail, it may not know the luxury of a steady tramp swung across father's shoulder—strange to say, men do not fear at this dictum of the new motherhood—much less will it experience the bliss of being lulled to rest in a wooden-slatted cradle or fluffly basket, swayed by the foot of a wondrous being who swings and croons, and croons and croons, till baby comes to merged in blessed sleep. Its maker claims that sideways rocking is, indeed, injurious to babykins, but to his eyes, not his brain. Therefore has he constructed a cradle that swings lengthwise, and is shaped like a boat!

A Famous Pitcher.

Elmer Strickland, the "apit ball" pitcher, had been listening a long while in a New York club to the boasting of a rival. "Well," he said, exhausted at last, "you are pretty good, Mike; but out in Mountain View there is a young fellow who can beat you. You'll hear from him next season. His specialty is the slow ball. This young fellow has such a slow ball that, when he pitches it and sees that it is going to be hit, he can run after it and fetch it back again."

Two men were discussing the various food products now being supplied in such variety and abundance. One, a grocer, said, "I frequently try a package or so of any certain article before offering it to my trade, and in that way sometimes form a different idea than my customers have."

Complains of Valuation.

Representatives of the principal railroads operating in Wisconsin appeared before the state tax commission and complained that the commission's preliminary valuations of their property was too high and the valuation of the general property of the state is based, was too low. The representatives of the Chicago & Northwestern and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy especially protested that the valuations of the property of their companies were too high.

Vetoes Sent In.

Among the governor's vetoes is a veto message of Senator Sanborn's bill seeking to amend the statutes relating to the general powers of corporations. The bill was known as senate bill 427, and was designed to include the electric railway corporations. Gov. Davidson vetoed the bill upon the theory that it permitted the organization of holding companies to secure absolute control of the electric lines of the state and further that it was in restraint of competition.

SAVED FROM DREAD FATE.

Kind Woman's Assistance Meant Much to This Tramp.

A certain lady, noted for her kind heart and open hand, was approached not long ago by a man who, with tragic air, began: "A man, madam, is often forced by the whip of hunger to many things from which his very soul shrinks—and so it is with me at this time. Unless, madam, in the name of pity, you give me assistance, I will be compelled to do something which I never before have done, which I would greatly dislike to do."

Much impressed, the lady made haste to place in his hand a five-dollar bill. As the man pocketed it with profuse thanks, she inquired: "And what is the dreadful thing I have kept you from doing, my poor man?" "Work," was the brief and mournful reply.—Harper's Weekly.

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long Live Dr. King's new discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Palmer, Truro Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Palmer's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. READING THE BIBLE THROUGH OR

Josephine Daskam Bacon publishes one of the best girl stories she ever wrote in the August American Magazine. Here is a squib from it that will be corroborated in the experience of almost every reader:

"Constantia started to read the Bible through; but when she divided the number of pages by forty, to read so much every day, it made such a terrible lot that she got discouraged. I told her to go and get as much done as she could, if she didn't get through it all, but she said that wouldn't do—it must be all or none. She could have saved out a lot by skipping those places where it says 'and somebody begat somebody' but she didn't think she ought to do that either. So she

Is not necessarily one of perfect feature. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artists model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires: neatness, clear eyes, clean smooth skin and the sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at J. J. officially declares that beer is the purest and best of all foods and drinks, and thus recognizes that Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is as much a food as it is a beverage.

The Pabst Eight-Day Malting Process gives to the beer the highest food value, while the Pabst Perfect Brewing Process gives it the lowest percentage of alcohol in all beers.

Pabst
Blue Ribbon
The Beer of Quality

is therefore a genuine temperance drink which doctors prescribe for the sick and anemic, while temperance workers realize that by encouraging the use of beer they discourage the use of intoxicating liquors.

Drink Pabst Blue Ribbon at meals and between meals and you will find it agrees with you and increases your strength and vitality.

When ordering Beer, ask for Pabst Blue Ribbon.
